Go to the correct url, if running locally, it will be https://localhost:5173. You should see the following landing page if successful.

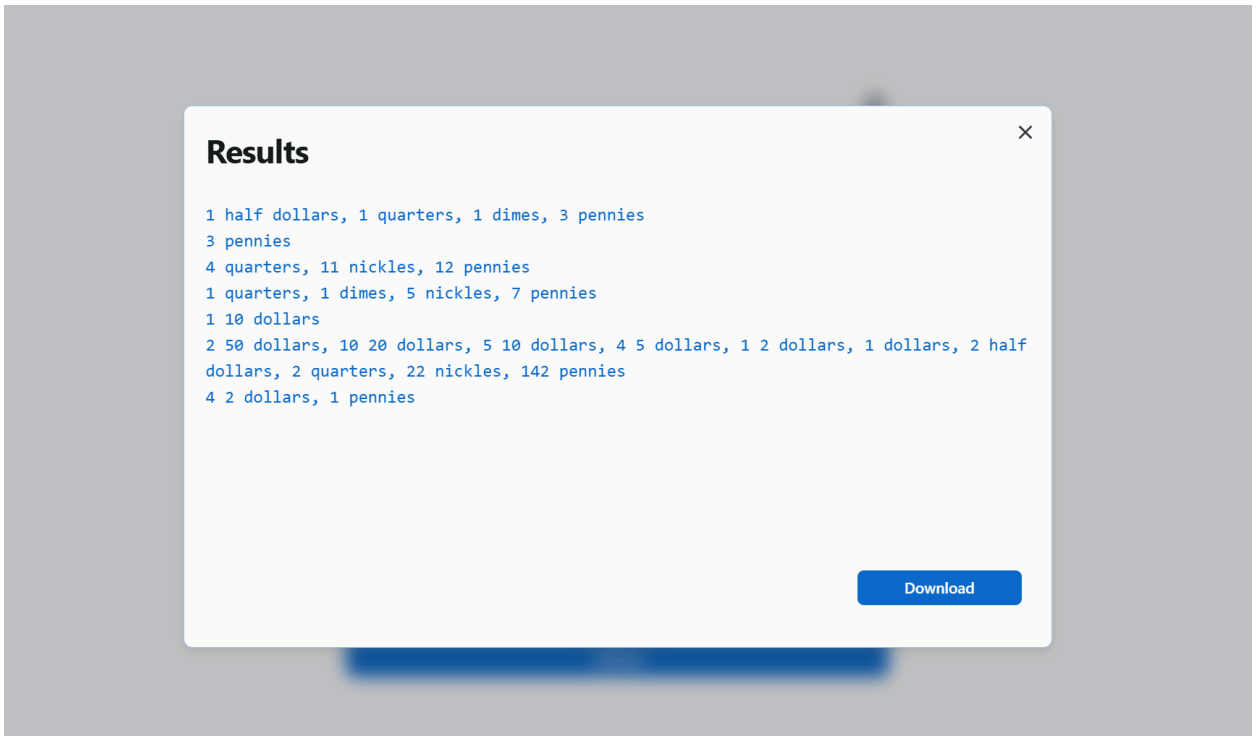

Next you can click anywhere in the light grey/blue box. It will open your file explorer and you can select a csv file to upload. Once a file is added it should look like the following image.

At this point you can select the blue upload button. It will start to process the csv file. If the csv file is valid and the calculation is successful you should see an alert saying success. If it wasn't successful then an alert will be presented saying as much.

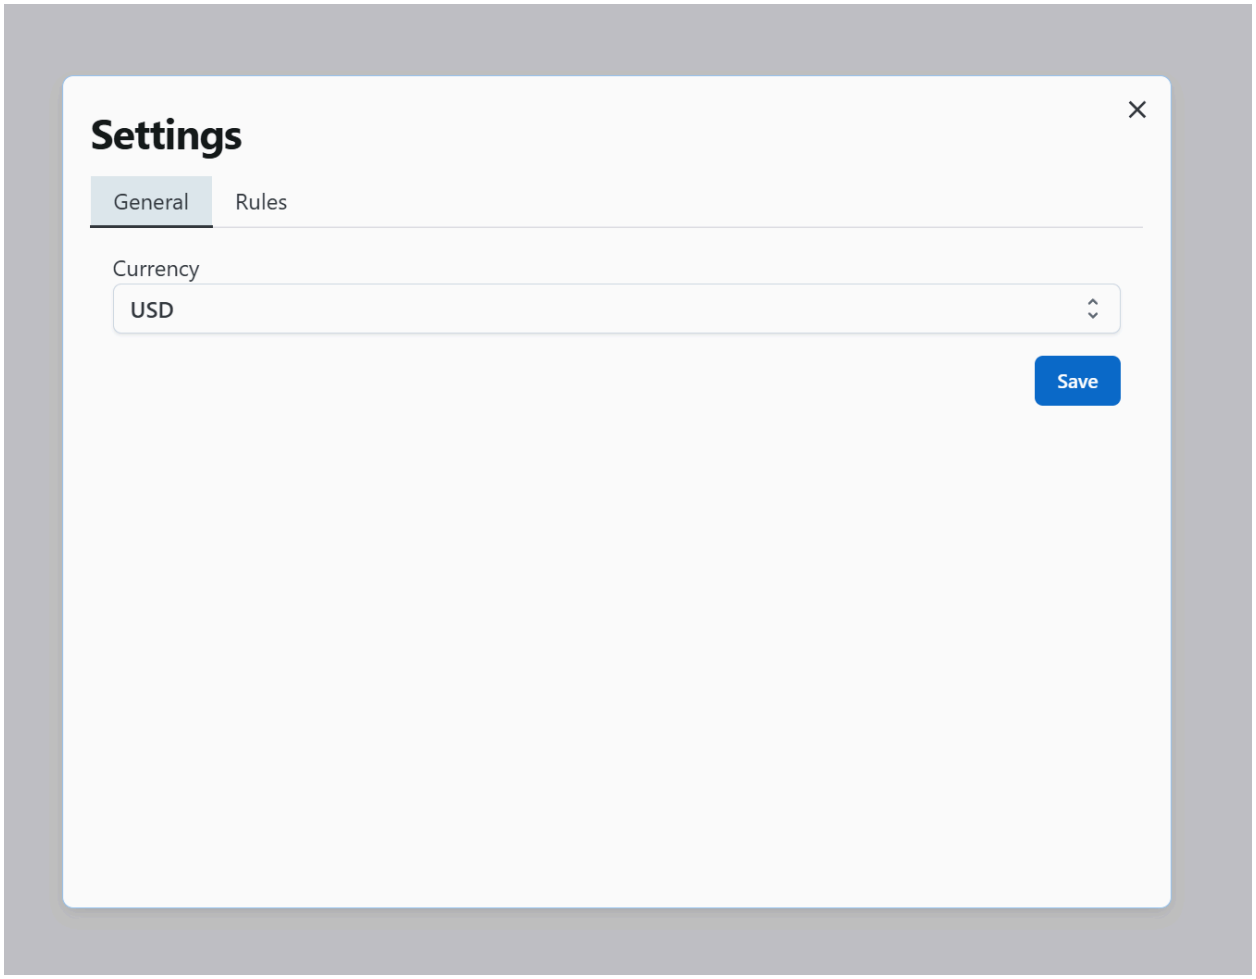

After you select Ok in the alert. You will then be presented a modal displaying the results.

At this point you can download the results into a CSV.

There are also Settings available to you as the user. If you click the settings gear icon above the upload card. The settings modal will present itself.

The system should have two currencies available. USD and Euro. You can select the currency and then hit save to change how change is calculated.

If you hit the Rules tab, you will see a table with the active rules. In future iterations you will be able to add and edit rules here.
